Travel Channel to broadcast seven-hour LIVE event from Gettysburg, Pa.

Gettysburg, Pennsylvania – June 9, 2008

On Friday, Oct. 10, MOST HAUNTED LIVE: GETTYSBURG will broadcast live on the Travel Channel from 8 p.m. to 3 a.m.

The Most Haunted team will disperse across several historical and paranormal locations in Gettysburg bringing viewers along on one of their most significant U.S. investigations to date. Possible locations explained during the event include historical homes, taverns, and farms that have a unique connection to the Civil War and, specifically, the Battle of Gettysburg.

“Gettysburg is a bulls-eye as far as a location for this sort of event,” said Sue Norton, executive producer for the Travel Channel’s MOST HAUNTED LIVE. “Travel Channel is thrilled to hold this investigation at Gettysburg because of its historical significance and the numerous accounts of paranormal activity reported.”

During the broadcast, host and lead investigator Yvette Fielding will be joined by her team to explore Gettysburg’s rich history and hauntings. Armed with scientific tools and night-vision cameras, the team will conduct an in-depth investigation in the hopes of connecting and communicating with the paranormal.

During the broadcast, webcams and viewer input will make MOST HAUNTED LIVE: GETTYSBURG completely interactive. This event will be an unprecedented paranormal investigation.

The MOST HAUNTED series airs on Fridays at 10 p.m. on the Travel Channel. More information on the show can be found at www.travelchannel.com/TV\_Shows/Most\_Haunted.

Stay over in Gettysburg and try to find some paranormal activity on your own! The Country Inn & Suites by Carlson is the ideal location, being only a short drive from some of the most haunted places on the battlefield, to lay your head after a long day of ghost hunting.
